Foreword

We ,the editors of BLACK AND GOLD, have made "Roman Holiday" the theme of the 1962 annual. The Roman atmosphere should serve as a reminder of the Junior-Senior and other activities. Preparing this book for you, the students, has been a great honor and we hope it will always bring back pleasant thoughts of your years spent at R. J. Reynolds High School.

Mr. Claude R. Joyner, Principal

The 1962 BLACK AND GOLD is dedicated to our beloved principal, Claude R. Joyner. Through the years, Mr. Joyner has ceased to be just a principal and has become a tradition. Although he retires this year, his spirit will linger in the halls of Reynolds to be felt by future students and remembered in the hearts of former students.

At Last!

Dive, Dove . . . Sank!

It just can't be Bob and John.

Who goes here?

Let's—uh—go steady?

I wonder who!

ZIPPY . . .

Look Ma . . . no cavities!

Alley Opps!

You haven't changed a bit!

Senior Capers

I'm from Shirley Rogers.

And away we go!

Best looking—third grade style.

It's Funday Funnies.

How sweet can a sweetheart be?!

DEMONS or DRACULAS???

Kookie Wooten — lend me your comb!

"Graduation time is near—Soon their smiles will turn to tears."

Don't panic!—We're twins!

If today's youth holds the future . . . !

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

The Student Council is concerned with the welfare of each student. It is composed of students who are nominated and elected by the student body. The council helps to establish a more co-operative environment in the school. The main purpose is to train the students in citizenship. The student government is based on the honor policy; therefore, the council is given the right to try students violating the honor code.

A project of the Council is choosing a citizen of the week, and from all those chosen, a student of the year will be selected.

House of Representatives

The House of Representatives is a branch of the student government which promotes co-operation and courtesy among all school members. A representative from each home-room makes up the House, and a member from each class, plus the officers, make up the House Court. School problems, such as trash on the campus and in the lunch room, and projects, such as helping needy families, are handled by the House. The House also sponsors several chapel programs. The sponsors are Mrs. Reich, Mrs. Flack, and Mrs. Coffey.

BOB BLAIR

Early in September members of the National Honor Society met to help with registration and to give words of wisdom (or maybe experience?) to the new sophomore class.

Before the students themselves were completely organized, October brought a whirlwind of traditional duties for the N. H. S.—district teachers' meeting, College Day, and P. T. A. open house.

Tensions were high and excitement reigned supreme on two occasions as the old members were sent forth to fill their ranks according to tradition.

It was a full year for the National Honor Society at Reynolds under the faithful guidance of its sponsors, Miss Mataline Collette and Miss Mary Martin.

Quill and Scroll

The purpose of the Quill and Scroll, the international Honorary Society for High School Journalists, is to encourage and reward individual achievements in the field of journalism. Reynolds students chosen for membership must meet the following requirements: must be either a junior or senior, have an honor average, do outstanding work in journalism, and make an "E" on deportment.

First row: P. Kimel, sec.; K. Sapp. pres.; J. Sapp. v-pres. Second row: G. Wright, D. Thomas, E. Tucker, P. Fearrington, C. Carlton.

Masque And Gavel

The Masque and Gavel is the honor society for speech students. Qualifications are, an "E" on deportment, an honor average, and an outstanding contribution in the field of speech. The sponsor is Mrs. Evelyn Garrison.

Key Club

The Key Club proved itself a valuable addition to our school through its many activities and services. The club aided the teachers by giving them blotters, waxing tables, and marking off the teachers' parking lot. At Christmas time, the club was very busy placing a tree in the cafeteria and the Christmas star at the top of the school. Thanksgiving found the Key Club distributing food to needy families, and later, collecting money for the March of Dimes. Many athletic activities have Key Club boys present, doing helpful chores. The officers this year are Tom Ogburn, president; David Meschan, vice president; Chuck Matthews, recording secretary; and Kent Wilcox, corresponding secretary. The sponsor this year is Mr. Don Kelly.

Senior Service Club

The Senior Service Club's aim is to render services for the school throughout the year. The members began their work this year by carrying books for the teachers before the start of the school year. The S. S. C. kept the court in front of the office spic and span. One can always see a S. S. C. boy giving out "beat 'em" tags before each big game and hanging the Demon Flag from the goal posts. Homecoming parade is another task which the S. S. C. performs ably, as one could see when the gaily decorated cars sped by. At Christmas the club has a Faculty tea. The most important new member of the S. S. C. this year was Mr. Claude R. Joyner, our principal, who received a life membership.

Work has its merits, as one can tell by the S. S. C. pool.

This resolution made Mr. Joyner a S. S. C. member for life.

The Demon hangs proudly over the door of the auditorium.

S. S. C. member Scottie Little hands out "beat 'em" tags to the students.

Mrs. Caroline Spencer and Miss Janie Weaver thinking up interesting programs for the College Club.

Kathy Welfare, Treasurer; Cam Dize, Vice-President; Pam Metcalf, President; Jewell Hill, Secretary.

College Club

Senior girls who plan to enter college found that membership in the College Club was both helpful and interesting. Our sponsors, Miss Weaver and Mrs. Spencer, offered advice and worthwhile information concerning college life. The members heard outstanding speakers and saw movies and slides representing various colleges. To the member voted most deserving, a $100 College Club Scholarship was given. A traditional open house was held following graduation by the College Club.

College Day answers many questions for inquisitive seniors.

Teen-age Council

Recreation at Wiley on Friday nights is fun for all.

The Teenage Council, which is sponsored by the City Recreation Department, plans and supervises teen-age activities for students at Reynolds. The Council has sponsored Saturday night dances at Wiley School, a Halloween dance, a dance at the Armory with the "Embers," and the annual twirp dance. The Council also collected food at Thanksgiving for needy families and packed surprise gifts for the Recreation Department at Halloween.

Each spring representatives from all classes elect the new members and initiate them at the annual end-of-school picnic. The sponsor, Mrs. Howard, works closely with the club and officers to ensure successful and helpful places for students to spend their time.

Co-Chairmen of Pep Board, Dianne Smithdeal and Cam Dize, whose poems have made the year enjoyable.

Pep Board

The Pep Board's purpose is to create school spirit and enthusiasm throughout the year among the student body. It is composed of one representative from each homeroom, and during the year, the members make "beat 'em" tags for the students, decorate the display cases, make posters for the hall and hang black and gold banners. Football and basketball Homecoming events are sponsored by the Pep Board. A prize is given for the best homeroom "beat 'em" tag and bulletin board.

Science Club

The purpose of the Science Club is to promote a lasting scientific interest in the members of the student body. The Science Club seeks to attain its purpose by showing pertinent films, engaging lecturers, and sponsoring trips to scientific facilities. The club also encourages its members to participate in the local science fair by making available technical information and arranging for expert consultation. The Engineers Club of Winston-Salem is closely connected with the Science Club and enthusiastically co-operates with the club membership.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club, with more than 60 members, is one of the school's largest organization. Sponsored by Mr. Wilson, the club starts its job early in the year by boosting school spirit for the football team. As the basketball season rolls around and cries of victory fill the Reynolds gym, order is kept by the white-sweater boys. Baskets of fruit are sent to the teams before the game. Students are served throughout the game by Monogram boys acting as custodians of the "goodies" at the snack bar.

In the spring, members are always on hand for the track meets and baseball games, helping with the various jobs that accompany these sports. As school goes on, the grounds are kept spotless by the "litter bug" campaign of the club.

Class History

On a September morning in 1957, a group of students, new to the teen-age world, entered a maze of lockers, classrooms, and older, wiser students. These newcomers were the eighth graders: today's senior class. In those first few days we learned to recognize the landing as "the" gathering place. Seen trying to fight their way through the mobs of students were Betty Boyd, John Wooten, Dallas McLennan, Judy Cranfill, Pam Byrd, Bill Scott, and Ronnie Tillotson. After adjusting to the strict class schedules, the extra homework, and the daily pranks from the upperclassmen, we were quick to take advantage of the many extracurricular activities that were offered to us. Dan Craver, Ken Davis, Esther Horwitz, and Bob Moffie joined the eighth grade band. Nola Foster, Pam Murray, Linda Brown, Becky Collins, and Elaine Isgett helped uphold the high standards of the Y-Teens. Norton Willis, today's basketball star, became our representative to the student council. We plunged headlong and curious into our first exams, and from there it seemed only a short hop to graduation. As we took our diplomas from Mr. Joyner, we realized that we were now freshmen, and truly a part of our school.

The summer of 1958 went by quickly, as most summers do; and we found ourselves once again in the halls of Reynolds. We were delighted to discover that there was now a class below us and were surprised when we were offered membership in some of the organizations of the upper classes. Fred Williams, Marsha Hart, Henry Triplette, Worth Middleton, Fred Richardson joined the high school marching band. Cita Rodgers, Bobby Pike, Melinda Lee, John Davis, and Dianne Turner played with the elite group of musicians that made up the orchestra. Arlene Nelson, Pam Petree, Alexa Fragakis, and Mary Boyer were members of the girls' choir. Mary Sue Rettinger, Carolyn McKnight, Mary Woolf, Barbara Granade, and Diane Norman became freshman Y-Teens.

Another summer flashed by, and we found ourselves back at Reynolds for our third year. Led by our class officers—Robert Lake, Rosie Ashburn, Pam Bain, and Bob Blair—we plunged into the whirlpool of sophomore activities. As the year progressed, many girls decided to make better use of their spare time by joining the Sophoteers. Mary McCoy, Kay Miller, Marilyn Helton, Hazel Peeples, and Judy Tate were a few of the members who helped with the service projects of the club. The Youth for Christ Club also contributed to the betterment of the school by featuring religious speakers at their early-morning meetings. Among those seen at the programs were Charlotte Sprinkle, Clyde Lincoln, Anita Smither, Judy Orrell, and Aldeen Wood.

In Chapel, homework and worries were forgotten as our thoughts drifted with the beautiful singing of the choir. Chorus students—Linda Walker, Mary Lou Bates, Bobby Cranfill, Betty Disher, and Chris Baker—blended their voices to help make the programs more inspiring.

For the Marching Band the year was highlighted by a trip to Washington, D. C. Band members—Wilson Edwards, Lois Coleman, Diana Kanoy, Mike Artman, Bob Lowery, and Jared Roberts were performing for the Washington Redskins while Cindy Peters, Linda Edwards, Nancy Mayer, and Susan Bagnal danced to their rhythmic marches.

In January, after long hours of research and writing, Michael Harrington brought recognition both to himself and to his class by winning the World Peace Speech Contest. While Michael was practicing with words and ideas, other experiments were being made in the science labs. Bunsen burners, test tubes, and microscopes were part of the apparatus used by Danny Ferguson, George Stockton, Jim Appleyard, and Hugh Overcash, members of the Junior Science Club. Other students preparing projects and making field trips were Bruce Schiller, Doris Barnard, Ralph Fishel, Ellen Katzin, and Billy Waldman.

Our second semester of school was interrupted by snow. Wednesday became our holiday for several weeks. The snows brought joy to us in March, but sorrow in May when we went to "Saturday-School." Heard at first rejoicing but later complaining were Paul Brewer, Connie Swaim, Linda Brewer, Raymond McCall, Terry Brewer, Julia Coe, and Ned Drane.

In April our class was again recognized when several sophomores were inducted into the Masque and Gavel. Joyce Woodward's entertaining recitation, "Mama's Angel Child," was brought to our minds as she became a member of this notable society.

Attracted by various sports, athletically-inclined students spent many afternoons at the gym. Marian Eidson, Linda Foster, Brenda Poe, Linda Pate, and Cathy Chandler were some of the girls practicing for varsity teams. Other sophomores who excelled in spring sports were Stuart Cooper and Tom Thornton, members of the tennis team; and George Yarborough, Butch Benbow, Wayne Walker, and Bobby Sutton, members of the track team.

This was the year when most of us received our cherished drivers' licenses. Proudly walking to the parking lot and ostentatiously dangling car keys were George Wood, Gail Rhodes, Mike Zimmerman, Linda Carrol, Cliff Brown, and Charles Sappington.

At last the magic of June appeared, and everyone prepared for a summer of fun. Playing sports, waxing cars, and just being lazy were our favorite pastimes. Tommy Lockard, Steve Henley, Gary Shore, and Jerry Long were among those ambitious ones of our class who attended summer school.

After a summer filled with fun, relaxation, and good intentions our junior class found itself amid the pines once again. This year the Y-Teens and Hi-Y Clubs drew the interest and participation of many juniors. Katy Welfare led the group of Y-Teens in their programs and service projects. Contributing cakes and pastries to the annual bake sale were Mary Beth Perkins, Barbara Parker, Carol Brewer, and Ann McLeod. While others were comfortably sleeping at home, Jan Crawley, Diane Way, Lynn Holmes, and Charlotte Donovan were being soaked at the Saturday morning car washes sponsored by the club. In December sunglasses and black tights were part of the attire sported by Y-Teens Jayne Keith, Lynda Sawyer, Sherrie Spearman, and Ann Smith at the "beatnik" dance. Charles McEwan, president of the Hi-Y, led members Jim Fitzgerald, Dick Carlburg, Bill White, and David Kline in the many projects and socials of the club.

Excelling in dramatics were several of our class. Jon Julian and Jane Roberts made their debut on the stage in "The Emperor's Doll." Jack Stevenson and Carolyn Coplon played parts in other plays.

Our class took an active part in sports. Led by Carolyn Bagnal, one of the J.V. cheerleaders, Tony Foster, Bob Devlin, Harvey Wade, Vicki Cockburn, and

Class History

Don Flynn cheered to victory J.V. football players, Thomas Hailey and Bobby Foster; basketball players, Clinton Gentry and Bobby Craver; and baseball players, Forrel Cason, Johnny Brookbank, and Marvin Owens. Girls proved their athletic abilities, too. Patty Huband, Dianne Bumgarner, Wanda Cornelius, and Cynthia Conrad served on the G.A.A. Council while Margaret Clayton, Kathy Adams, and Linda Young played intramural sports.

While our Reynolds athletic teams were bringing us fame, so, too, were the players for Children's Home. Bill Spenser and Bobby Brown were cheered on by Dianne Dunnigan and Treva Dysart. Melvin Lowery and Barry Frye received recognition for their fine ability and sportsmanship.

In the spring of our junior year members of our class gained membership in the National Honor Society for their excellence in character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Virginia Boyle, Bobby Rhudy, Susan Brown, Maribeth Byers, and Gayle Collette were tapped by old members. Joan Durana, Karol Grubbs, Linda Longworth, and Harriet Nanzetta were other proud juniors inducted into the society.

From the very beginning of our spring term we found ourselves in the midst of rush, confusion, and chaos. For weeks and weeks we made our plans for the Junior-Senior so that May 5 would be a true "Roman Holiday." Fred Bahnson, Marilyn Miller, and Pete Davis spent many hours working. Mickey Zauber, Scottie Little, and Judy Parker planned the theme and sent invitations while Gilbert Cofer, Virginia Lovell, and Tom Brown supervised the decorating.

We were all anxious for our vacation to begin. Seen counting the days before our beach trips, jobs, and lazy summer nights were Penny Baker, Anne Swain, Preston Oldham, Billy Debusk, and Gail Bryant. They calendar-watched not in vain, for June 3 came dutifully to our rescue.

In 1961 we entered Reynolds for our fifth and final year. We each made a silent vow to make this year our best. The senior members of the football team conveyed their school spirit to the rest of the student body with an opening win over Lexington. Captains Bob Blair and Bubba Brockwell did a fine job in keeping the morale of the team high. Some of the supporting players were Jimmy Reavis, Laten Creech, Johnny Stewart, Dick Goin, and John Samuel. Gene Petty, Charles Veitch, Steve Blake, and Jack Staton also helped with the touchdowns. Pep Board chairman Diane Smithdeal and board members Mary Ann Cody, Mary Jane Yandell, Martha Blackmore, Beth King, and Peggy Richardson worked hard to keep the spirit up. Larry Crawford and Fred Amend contributed to the spirit by ringing the victory bell upon every score.

Homecoming was the main highlight of the football season, and, although the score didn't look very good, homecoming queen Buff Cox did. Martha Thomas, Mary Ann Swaney, and Jewel Hill were among the other gracious sponsors. Bobby Chambers, Alvin Brown, Bobby Greenway, Hank Smith, and Lawrence Gordon were in the group of fortunate boys who escorted the members of our homecoming court.

Scholarship is always important, and scholarship is one thing that Reynolds High School students do not lack. Paul Licker, Bob Keller, and Beth Bayless took honors in the National Merit Exam. Carolyn Harris, Lucia Simpson, Merle Silverman, and John Hutcheson also found themselves among the high scorers.

Class History

The highly distinguished National Honor Society filled its ranks with Sarah Young, Marian Davis, Stephen Stroupe, Constance Johansson, and Eric Goodman. Mildred Yarborough, Lonnie Smith, Tommy McKenzie, and Cliff Perry were also elected into this organization.

Taking advantage of the many opportunities that the recently opened Industrial School offered were Bruce Whicker, Jerry Lineback, Dickie Smothers, John Williams, and Ronnie Trivette. Roger Crook, Earl Hunt, Skip Moore, Ralph Barrow, and Dick Carmichael were among the others that busied themselves at this educational center.

We all studied a little bit harder as we began to realize the importance of our final year in high school. English IV and American history seemed to be our fatal subjects. We memorized Shakespeare, analyzed Bacon, worshipped Dickens, and mastered grammar and composition. Seen muttering memory passages and spelling words were Ronnie Green, Steve Petree, John Stewart, George Shimmick, Elizabeth Silverburg, and Connie Baumgardner. Mike Jenkins, Pat Amos Daniels, Larry Byrd, and Beverly Snyder "boned up" on Washington, Jefferson, and Lee; Linda Griffin, Whit Turner, Gayle Goodwin, Lyndell Stuart, Brenda Roberts, and Wayne Barbee burned the midnight oil preparing term papers.

We sought refuge from this flood of homework in the basketball season. Bobby Denny, Bob Campbell, and Larry Miller were some of the key players on the team.

Pam Kimel, Jane Sapp, and Junior editor Pam Hahn spent many long hours in the journalism room preparing our Black & Gold for the printers. Kathy Sapp and her staff worked no less hard on the school publication Pine Whispers.

Supporting our fine chorus through its many programs were Janice Baker, Carter West and Bob Sugg. Those heard praising these chapel programs were Edwin Brodenell, Jimmy Burchette, Joe Shapiro, and Jimmy Snyder. Patricia Overby, Wayne Nail, Gray Gentry, Sharon Jackson, and Charlotte Williams also commented on them.

Pam Metcalf, Beth Trotter, Nancy Harville, Kathy Brown, Nancy Bowen, and Louise Dahlen were among the hopeful members of the College Club. Starr Barnhardt, Sharon Hine, and Carol Shields helped keep the French Club going, while Judy Whitaker, Patsy McCormick, and Elaine Poteet did what they could for us when we found it necessary to go to the Nurse's room. Some of the helpful office pages—Elizabeth Chipman, Sarah Aspden, Judy Gardner, Dabney Owen, Judy Chipman, and Brenda Gorden—were smoothing out confusion and chaos in the office. Among those honored with the title "Citizen of the Week" were David Sprinkle, Cam Dize, Jimmy Kausch, and Bunny Brewer.

When the last frigid gust of wind blew over Reynolds and returned to the North, we, the seniors, began to realize fully that our days at Reynolds were growing short. We looked forward to the Junior-Senior which, prior to graduation, was the last major highlight of our high-school career. The class picnic and final exams came and went in such a flurry that we hardly recognized them. And then, it was almost graduation day. As we take our diplomas from Mr. Joyner, for the second time in our stay at Reynolds, we shall have feelings of both joy and sadness. Our life at Reynolds will be over, but our life in the world will be only beginning.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of 1962,
Knowing our days here at Reynolds are through,
Do hereby consign our most humble consent
To this our own Last Will and Testament.

To Mr. Joyner and the whole faculty
We leave our best wishes and a fond memory.
For all you have done to help launch our careers,
We shall never forget you in our future years.

Attention, O Juniors, for we give to you
All our dignity, ego, and brownie points, too.
More personal matters are coming up now,
So please cherish these things which on you we endow.

To Miriam Stone, Vilia Wood leaves her voice,
While Anne Petty gives some Junior girl a big choice
Between Sandra Kaplan's or her demon costume.
They will have no more use for those things, we presume.

Bill Hartman on dashing Pig Spach does bestow
His red plaid sport coat with which girls Pig may snow.
There is passing through some of the halls an odd rumor

That Jim Morris has left Wendell Eysenbach his humor

Frank Freudig to Bill Wallen bequeaths his Stubebaker
And warns him, "Take care of that loud, four-wheeled shaker."

Elizabeth Wenger leaves needle and thread
For Peytie Fearington to use in her stead.

Renny Carter's horsemanship, on which he dotes,
Goes to Betty Pat Thomas. She surely knows her oats.
Bill Dancy has lots of vitality to spare,
So he leaves some of it for the Juniors to share.

"Fab" Foltz's red socks and green shoes are bestowed
On someone who wishes to be a la mode.
Vance Blalock gives a paint brush, and he does beseech

Just one person to use it; her name's Robin Beach.

Louise Stokes and Anne Parker, both color guards grand,

To Newell and Burke their nice duty do hand.
Dianne Church leaves her often-used pen and inkwell
To Caroline Carlton, a girl who can think well.

To the band members goes an Indian head-dress
From Bob Maynard who wills it with regretfulness.
His talent backstage Marshall Wills now releases
For ingenious Jeff Miller to use as he pleases.

From Linda Sanders goes to Peggy Greer
A cheerleading talent—she'll need it next year.
Dave Davis won't give up his fame near and far
For folding up into his tiny Sprite car.

To Kent Wilcox, Steve Sulkin leaves a gift worth a patent
And that's his ability in translating Latin.
Joe Gaddy acquires a large, heavy barbell
From tall Burton Fitts and from Tommy Cordell.

Kay Howell to friends leaves her own unique style
That comes from driving her con-ver-ti-byle.
Marie Wallace to Jo Fulp leaves red tresses so fair.
Jane Averette gets Janet Bailey's tips on combing hair.

From Monty Johnson and Ronald Rice a present
Is left to any who'd like a bowling score pleasant.
Vicki Poindexter leaves her golden quiet
To the girls' study halls. We have heard they should try it.

Phil Hart leaves his accent and slow Southern drawl
To someone who can't seem to manage "you all."
In speaking of accents, Roy Pierson's is known to be left for Chrissy Strickland to add to her own.

Robert Harper's main interest is centered around
His nice gun collection, the best to be found.
He wills it to no one, but if he were to,
It would go to none other than Lee Pardue.

Mason Mitchell, who has numerous inches to spare, Wants his height with a Junior, Chuck Matthews, to share.

Mike Foltz's original poetry style
Goes to someone who'll put it to use for a while.

A worn-out typewriter comes from Jerry Gay;
It's been used so much that it may be thrown away.
Jimmy Pfefferkorn from Robert Jasenkiewicz can claim
A much-needed talent for spelling his name.

With all our requests and last wishes revealed,
We give this fine document, signed and sealed,
To Mrs. McDermott, who's agreed without fee
To execute this document most faithfully.

Arthur Drake
